Log-In PAGE

- Prompt to input recovery email and answer security questions.
- Administrators and Supervisors will no longer be able to view users' passwords.
- Administrators and Supervisors will instead be able to mimic Log-In as a learner for troubleshooting and assistance with resetting passwords.

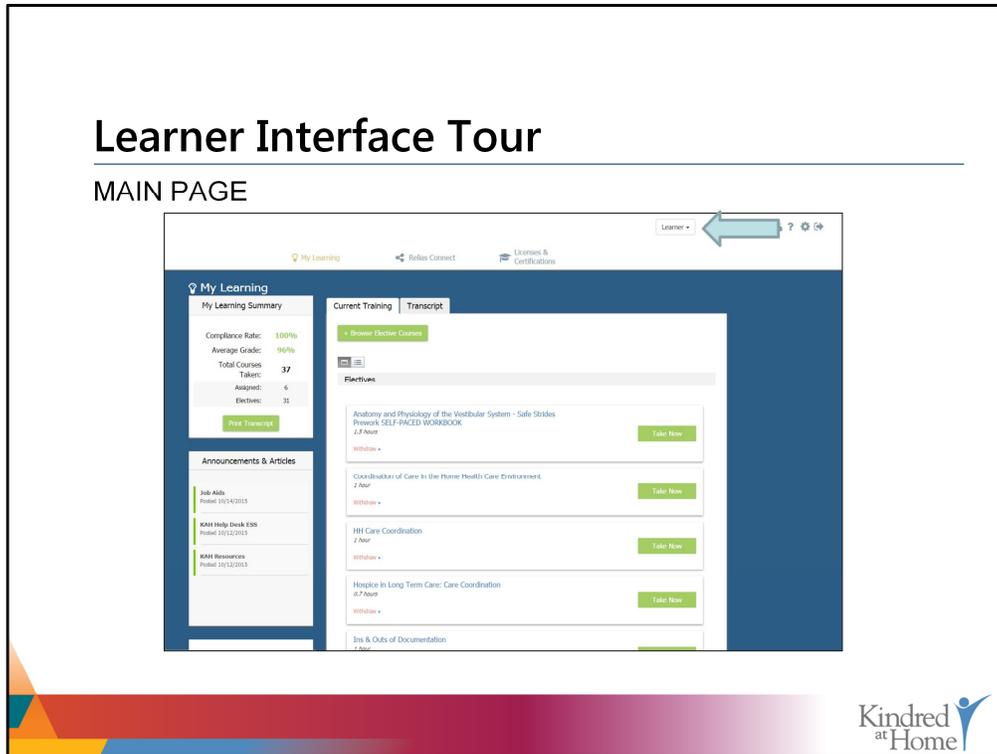

To access Kindred at Home Learning, type kindredathomelearning.com into your internet browser. Upon landing on the Log-in Page, you will be prompted to type in your username and password. This information will be provided to each employee's manager via email.

If, for any reason, your manager does not have this information or the information you have received does not provide access to the system, please contact the Helpdesk. Their phone number is referenced on the Log-In page and is also provided at the end of this training guide.

Upon logging in the first time, you will be prompted to provide a recovery email and answer security questions. This will allow you to reset your own password. Please note that system administrators and supervisors will no longer be able to view your password; however, they will be able to walk you through troubleshooting and assist with resetting your password.

MAIN PAGE

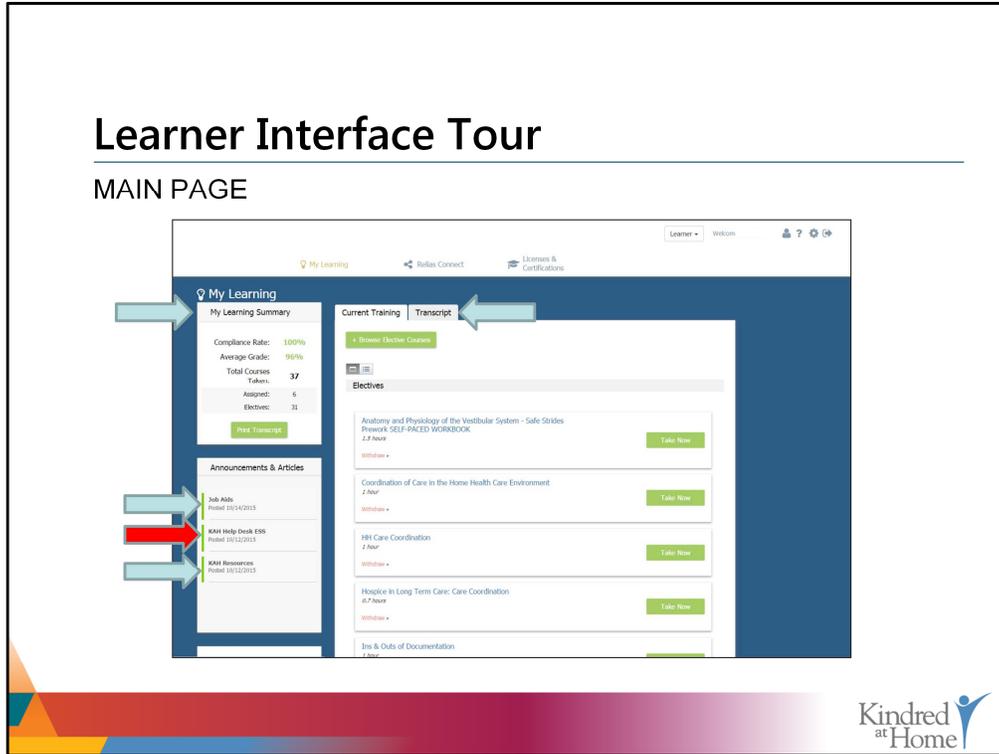

Once you've logged in, you will begin at the main page. This page will be different, depending on your role. The system will automatically log you in at the highest level based on your role. You will see your default role displayed in the drop-down box in the upper right corner of the screen.

The majority of our users will be logged in as learners. For those with direct reports, you'll be logged in as a supervisor. For those with supervisor access, you can change your role to 'learner' by simply selecting the Learner role from the drop down box.

More information regarding the Supervisor view in Kindred at Home Learning is provided in a separate section of this manual.

Learner Interface Tour

Included on the main page are additional resources such as job aids, in-service calendars, clinical decision support tools, home exercise programs, and more. A summary of each learner's learning progress is also available, as well as a list of their current, incomplete training, which is found in the 'Current Training' tab. Any completed training can be located on the learner's transcript, found in the 'Transcript' tab.

Just a quick note, as we work towards completing this transition, we will continue to migrate resources like job aids to Kindred at Home Learning. Also, the KAH Help Desk Employee Self Service (ESS) link has been removed for now. Please stay tuned for changes regarding this feature in future updates.

Learner Interface Tour

ADD A COURSE

To self-enroll in a course, first ensure that you are on the My Learning page and the Current Training tab and then click on the 'Browse Elective Courses' button.

Learner Interface Tour

ADD A COURSE

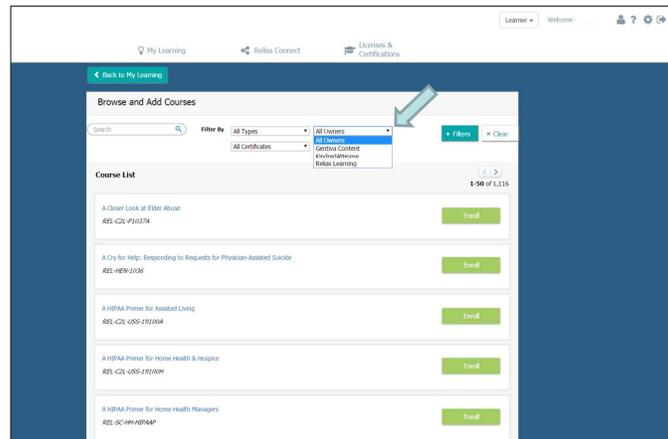

A new window will open and all courses available to you will be displayed in alphabetical order.

Kindred at Home Learning makes it easy to search for a specific course using “plain language” search and/or filtering. Plain language search allows you to enter a term in the search bar, which will then prompt the system to show you all courses that contain that term or terms. If a term is referenced somewhere in the course title or description, the system will display it.

To use this search feature, enter the term into the search field and then select the magnifying glass icon or hit Enter. The easiest way to ensure that you locate a specific course is to search by course title or number.

Learner Interface Tour

ADD A COURSE

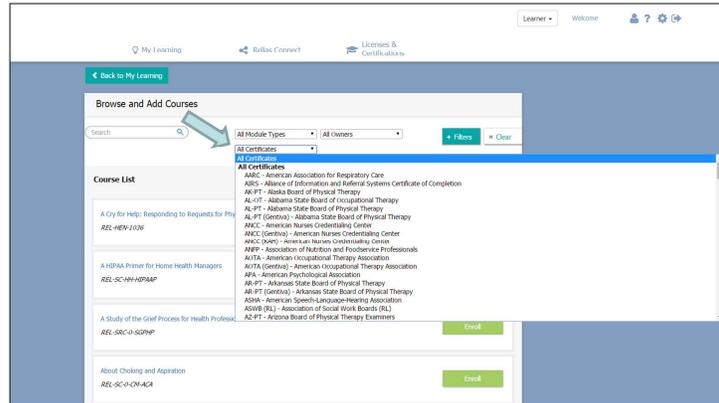

You can also filter the list of courses to find content that matches a specific criteria. There are a number of filters to choose from, but the two most useful are the “Owner” filter and the “Certificates” filter.

The owner filter allows you to limit your results to who created the training. For example, if you are searching for courses only created by Kindred at Home, you can select that option from the drop-down box.

Learner Interface Tour

ADD A COURSE

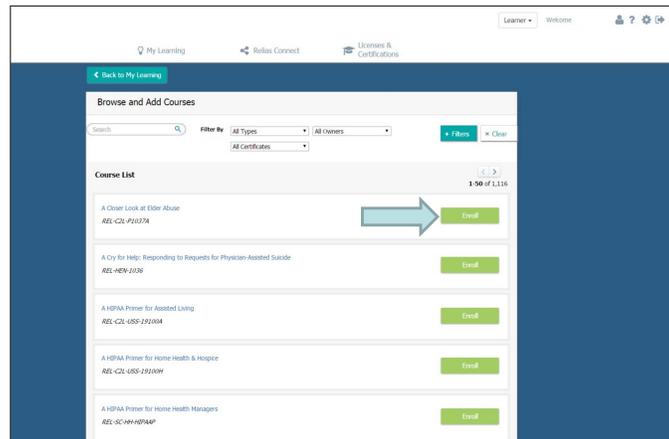

Another very useful filter is the “Certificates” filter. This filter allows you to see just the courses that offer continuing education (CE) credit for the board you select. Upon selecting the desired board from the drop down list, a list of CE courses associated with that board will display.

It’s worth noting that you will see some boards with Gentiva or KAH listed in parenthesis after its name. Selecting any of these options will only expand your continuing education opportunities and is strongly encouraged!

If you need CEs, it is worthwhile to use both of these options.

Learner Interface Tour

ADD A COURSE

Now, let's take a look at how to enroll in a course. Enrolling is as simple as clicking on the Enroll button to add the course to your current training.

Learner Interface Tour

For those with prior access to SumTotal, please note that while your completed courses will not transfer into Kindred at Home Learning, you will still have access to a report of all of your previous achievements via Knect. You can do so by using the following path to submit a request:

Knect > Global > Learning Management System > LMS Reporting

If you do not have access to Knect, you may contact the Help Desk to request your achievement report.

New Hires & Contractors

- New hires will automatically feed into Relias when they are active employees in SAP
- When contractors are keyed correctly into Security Master they will feed into the application
 - Note: Not all contractors require new hire training.

New hires will be automatically feed into Relias as soon as they are active in SAP, our HR Information System. New hires should not be entered into Relias manually.

Also, contractor employees will also feed into Relias; however, they, too, must be keyed correctly into Security Master, our SAP equivalent, before they are fed into the application.

No help desk tickets are required for this process as long as the HR system is functioning as intended. Also, please note, that, depending on the employee's job code, they may not have any training required.
